

Lake Eve Resort chooses BioTime for their new time and attendance system

Lake Eve Resort selects Bio-Metrica's BioTime to reduce losses from buddy punching fraud, to control costs, and manage their employee's schedules.

Orlando, FL January 15, 2010 – Lake Eve Resort, a premier resort located in Lake Buena Vista, FL, has chosen Bio-Metrica's BioTime for their new time and attendance system, replacing timesheets submitted by employees, contractors and external vendors.

After BioTime's installation, Lake Eve Resort reined in their employee, contractor and vendor costs and had recouped the cost of the new system within a week. They were able to cut salaries and external resource expenses by almost 40%.

"We wanted to replace our existing system with one that would have more control over employee and contractor costs. We had some expectations, but in less than a month after we have initiated the new system the results were way beyond those expectations" said Alberta Myles, Lake Eve Resort's Accountant

BioTime is a flexible and scalable biometric fingerprint time and attendance system that grants businesses, like Lake Eve Resort, the ability to track their employee's schedules and to reduce fraud prevalent in older non-biometric systems such as punch card clocks. With biometrics, BioTime ensures businesses that work times reported are correct and attendance is verified by the fingerprint of the employee.

"An employer can save an average of 15-20% on payroll and external resources costs using a biometric time & attendance system, with an ROI of 1-3 months. According to a 2008 article made by Babita Gupta with IBM, McDonald's fast-food chain reduced their payroll costs by 22 percent annually, while 'Taylor Farm' reduced payroll costs by 20 percent and was able to achieve positive return on investment within three months" said Ronen Yacobi, CEO of Bio-Metrica, LLC. "With our BioTime system, businesses can be assured of accurate time information for all their employees across the entire enterprise. When fallibility and reliability of older systems come into question, BioTime's use of biometrics ensures that their employees are present and at their scheduled times,"
